

Getting started with HomeSphere’s direct rebate management solution is easy — so you can keep building while we manage your direct contracts. With us, you’ll have the tools to save time and resources while adding a new source of income to your rebate programs.

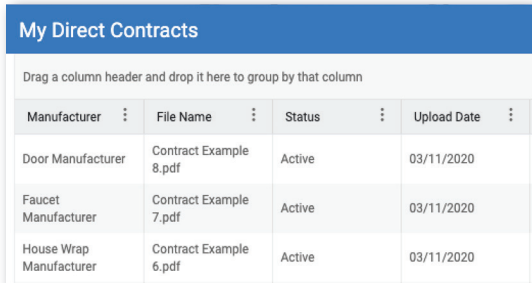

Once you’re on board, we’ll sit down with you to see how we can maximize your rebates across product categories, then get you set up on our Direct Rebate Marketplace and My HomeSphere® Direct.

HomeSphere’s Direct Rebate Marketplace and My HomeSphere Direct make it simple.

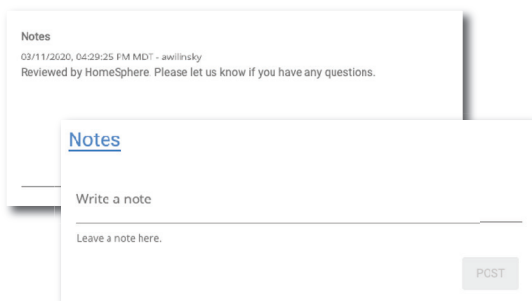

See brands interested in negotiating contracts.

The Direct Rebate Marketplace shows you which brands have indicated interest in negotiating rebates so you can more quickly get started.

Upload your negotiated contracts and see them in one spot.

Once your contracts are negotiated, you can quickly upload them to My HomeSphere Direct so our team can help you manage the details. Then, refer to them in one easy spot.

Communicate with our team within the platform.

Have any questions on your contracts? Write a note directly within the platform to send to our team and we’ll promptly get back to you with support.
